Patient Privacy Notice

1. Introduction

Caredoc is committed to providing patients with the highest quality of care in an environment that protects the privacy and confidentiality of their medical information. Caredoc is a provider of healthcare services that aspires to consistently high standards of quality, cost-effectiveness and patient satisfaction. We seek to deliver a broad range of services with sensitivity to the individual needs of patients and their families.

This Notice sets out how we capture, use and protect all types of personal data which Caredoc collects and stores during the course of patient treatment. We also want you to be clear as to what rights you can invoke in respect to your information, as a patient of Caredoc.

The data controller in most instances is Caredoc. However, when patients are referred directly by private hospitals, voluntary hospitals, agencies or by any other means, Caredoc may not be the data controller.

2. How do we collect your information?

Caredoc understands that medical information is personal and confidential and we are dedicated to protecting patient privacy. Data is collected in a number of different ways.

Each time a patient contacts or uses the Caredoc service, a record is made. This record may be on paper, electronically on a computer or stored by other media such as an audio tape recording and in some cases, a CCTV recording. Typically, our records contain details of patient personal information (eg: date of birth, address, next of kin), details of the patients own doctor, medical card/private patient status, symptoms, examination and test results, diagnosis, treatment and/or a plan for care or treatment.

We may also receive your personal information from third parties, for example; your next of kin, your family members, your GP or other health professionals who are contributing to your care.

3. How do we use your information?

This information serves as:

- A basis for planning care, treatment and any follow-up needed;
- A means of communication among health professionals who contribute to the patients care; eg Patients own GP, HSE, Pharmacists, Emergency services
- A medical record of the care received;
- A means by which we can process a claim for payment – either a charge for private patients or claim to the HSE for medical card holders;
- A source of information to investigate complaints, legal claims or adverse incidents;
- A tool for educating/training health professionals;
- A source of information for medical research*;
- A source of information for public health officials charged with improving the health of the nation;
- A source of information for planning service improvements;
- A tool that can be used to assess and continually improve the quality of service provision by Caredoc;
- A tool for ensuring the safety of our patients and staff members.

*Caredoc provides statistical information to other organisations such as the HSE, Universities and other research institutions. Caredoc will make sure that you cannot be identified by anonymising the information.

4. Legal basis for processing

Caredoc's lawful basis for processing personal data of service users is as follows:

- The processing is necessary in order to protect the vital interests of the data subject;
- The processing is necessary for a task carried out in the public interest;
- The processing is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which the Caredoc is subject.
- The processing is necessary for our legitimate business interest in providing our services as efficiently as possible.

Special categories of data are defined by the GDPR and include things like racial or ethnic origin, religious or philosophical beliefs, genetic data, biometric data, health data, sex life details and sexual orientation. We will only process special categories of personal data where it is necessary:

- for the purposes of preventative or occupational medicine,
- for medical diagnosis,
- for the provision of healthcare, treatment or social care
- for the management of health or social care systems and services.

5. Who do we share your information with?

Caredoc may share your personal data with a number of third parties, where required. We will only do so if there is a genuine need in order to ensure the highest quality of care is provided to you. We are careful only to share the information that is necessary for this purpose; for example with health professionals who contribute to the patients care such as patients own GP, HSE, Pharmacists, Emergency services. Anyone who receives this information is also bound by confidentiality and data protection legislation. In certain situations, we may have to disclose your personal information to other agencies, in accordance with legal requirements, i.e. Department of Social welfare, Department of Health, the Courts etc., or in an emergency situation to prevent injury to other persons.

Caredoc may also share your personal data with a number of third party service providers who are acting on our behalf to provide a service to Caredoc. Caredoc will ensure that the appropriate contractual and security arrangements are in place with any third party providers. Please refer to Appendix 1 for more details.

6. Retention of Data

Caredoc is under legal obligation to keep certain data for a specified period of time. In addition, the organisation will need to keep data for a period of time in order to protect the vital interests of our patients. Please refer to the extract from the Caredoc Retention Policy on Appendix 2 for full details of these retention periods.

7. Security and Storage of Data

Caredoc will take all reasonable steps to ensure that appropriate security measures are in place to protect the confidentiality of both electronic and manual data. Security measures will be reviewed from time to time, having regard to the technology available and the cost and the risk of unauthorised access. Caredoc employees are required to implement all organisational security policies and procedures, e.g., use of computer passwords, locking filing cabinets.

8. Your Rights

Under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) you have a number of rights with regard to your personal data. These are as follows:

8.1 Right of Access

You have a right to know what personal data we hold on you, why we hold the data, and how we are using the data. Parents and legal guardians can also make a request for the patient record of a child. When submitting your request, please provide us with information to help us verify your identity and as much detail as possible to help us identify the information you wish to access (i.e. date range, subject of the request). All requests should be made in writing or by email to the contact details provided above.

8.2 Right to Rectification

You have a right to request that the personal data held in relation to you is up to date and accurate. Where information is inaccurate or incomplete, we encourage you to contact us to have this information rectified. Upon receipt of your request, we will ensure that the personal data is rectified and as up to date as is reasonably possible.

8.3 Right to Erasure

You have the right to seek the erasure of personal data relating to you, however, the right to erasure of medical records is not an absolute right and restrictions may apply. This would need to be examined on a case-by-case basis. We will also be unable to delete data which is being held in the public interest, such as for protecting against cross-border threats or ensuring high standards of quality and safety of health care.

8.4 Right to Restriction

You have the right to restrict the extent for which your personal data is being used by us in circumstances where; you believe the personal data is not accurate, where processing of the personal data is unlawful; where the personal data is no longer required by us but you require the data for the establishment, exercise, or defense of a legal claim.

Requests from patients to restrict processing should be in writing and signed, however restrictions may apply.

8.5 Right to Data Portability

You have the right to the provision of all personal data, which you provided to us, provided to you in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format. We will only refuse such a request if the data being requested may adversely affect the rights and freedoms of others.

8.6 Right to Object

You have the right to object to the further use of your personal data in certain circumstances. Requests from patients to object to processing should be in writing and signed, however restrictions may apply.

8.7 Right to Lodge a Complaint

You have the right to lodge a complaint to the Data Protection Commission if you believe that we have not complied with the requirements of the GDPR with regard to your personal data.

9. Data Protection Officer

Tricia Cosgrave is the Data Protection Officer for Caredoc. She bears overall responsibility for ensuring compliance with data protection legislation. All employees must co-operate with the data protection officer when carrying out their duties.

The data protection officer is also available to answer queries or deal with a patient's concerns about data protection and can be contacted at the above address or by email to tricia.cosgrave@caredoc.ie

10. Review

This policy will be reviewed from time to time to take into account changes in the law and the experience of the policy in practice.
